

The day cell phones are allowed to be used on planes will be the end of many flight attendant careers. Not only would it allow terrorist to communicate easier in flight but it would make our job even harder. passengers barely listen to safety guidelines now. Imagine how little they would listen if they were on their phones.